Hamilton Girls' High School

In early 2021 the Welcome Swallow Gallery held an exciting and very successful schools' competition, entitled The Artful Four: 40 Shots. It was designed to establish a platform for young artists to present their work for the wider public to see and appreciate.

Alongside the current exhibition that presents studies of Still Life, and compositions from Hamilton Girls' High School (HGHS), we are also featuring the photographic talents of HGHS. Presented here are 10 stunning pieces of photographic work that the gallery is delighted to display. This is the first time that the Welcome Swallow Gallery has been able to present art photography.

Due to the technological ability to manipulate imagery in favour of greater expression and interpretation beyond documenting moments in time, photography is typically described as a form of modern art. Perhaps we have here a photographer in the image of Anna Atkins, the first female photographer, born in 1799!
